FASHIONABLE FANCIES.

Black Zonave Jackets, Trimmed With White-Belts of the Sesson.

Roumanian blouses, such as are worn by the natives of Roumania, have become fashionable. They are of white cotton material and are lavishly adorned with cross stitch patterns in scarlet or scarlet and blue thread. The more elaborate designs have gold sequins intermixed. Accordion plaited overskirts in the same style have wide bands of embroidery all around the lower edge and up the fronts when the everskirts open over petticoats.

Zouave coats in black velveteen have an applique trimming of white cloth edged with gold braid and dotted with sequins.

BENGALINE COSTUME. Bands of Roumanian embroidery on cloth can be purchased by the yard and are very effective for vests and trimmings. They are easily adapted to fashionable costume, now that brilliant trimmings are in so great vogue.

Many very attractive alpaca gowns are seen made with a coat and skirt. The coat is lined with elaborate brocade and opens over a white skirt more or less furbelowed. There is very often a corselet of black silk, satin or moire, and a black tie is worn. A novelty is a full cravat of chiffon of a vivid color.

Belts are much worn this year. Scarlet leather ones are a novelty that is very attractive with outing and morning costumes. Belts are of all grades, the most expensive being of filigree gold, studded with jewels. There are very pretty imi-tations of these costly articles, and the im-Itations are in better taste for out of door wear than the originals, but the latter are in no danger of becoming common.

A sketch is given of a tollet of steel gray bengaline. The godet skirt is richly embroidered with steel, gold and red silk, the embroidery forming a tablier and ex-tending in a border around the foot of the skirt. The bodice is similarly embroidered and has a lace collar and cravat. The sleeves consist of a double balloon cream silk gauze, finished with a frill of JUDIC CHOLLET.

Pabet Is Its Name.

Climate of every variety exerts a different influence on the desires of mankind for a stimulant. In colder zones beverages of great alcoholic strength are used to a very much larger degree than in the tropics. Beer is best suited to our climate and none found in the market is better than that bearing the brand of "Pabst, MILWAUKEE." It is brewed from the best of malt and hops and is a great thirst quencher and invigorator and stimulates the nerves and muscles. At the Royal, Cosmopolitan and Pacific saloons it may be found, cold and pure. Interchangeable checks are issued which may be used at any of the three resorts.
